

Community Guidelines

Effective Date: August 29, 2025

This platform is designed for audiences 13 and older to enjoy high-quality video content produced by credited creators and production companies. The company hosts and moderates all featured videos. All content remains the property of the credited productions, and the company does not claim ownership except for its own original works.

By using GZTV, you agree to follow these guidelines for viewing and interacting with content.

Content Ownership

- All videos on the platform are owned by the credited productions or their authorized licensors.
- The company acts as a host and moderator only, providing access to this content for viewing.
- No uploaded or user-generated content is accepted on this platform.

What's Allowed

We encourage content that is:

- Original and created by the approved production.
- Respectful and appropriate for audiences aged 13 and older.
- Safe, educational, entertaining, or inspiring.
- Compliant with local and international laws.

Viewer Conduct Rules

To ensure a safe and respectful community, viewers must not:

- Attempt to copy, reproduce, redistribute, or record platform content without permission from the rightful owner.
- Engage in harassment, hate speech, or abusive behavior in comments, messages, or interactions (if interactive features exist).
- Misrepresent or impersonate the company, its productions, or credited creators.
- Share misleading, fraudulent, or harmful information using the platform.

Age and Safety Requirements

- The platform is intended for users 13 years and older.
- If under 18, parental or guardian guidance is recommended.
- Content that depicts sensitive themes is clearly labeled, and viewer discretion is advised.

Intellectual Property Rights

- All videos remain under the ownership of their credited productions.
- The company maintains only the license or permission to host and distribute the content on this platform.
- Unauthorized use of the platform's content outside of its intended purpose is prohibited.

Reporting and Moderation

- Users may report inappropriate behavior, technical issues, or misuse of the platform.
- The company reserves the right to restrict or suspend access for violations of these guidelines.
- Where necessary, serious violations may be referred to law enforcement or rights holders.

Data and Privacy

- Viewers should not share personal, financial, or private information through the platform.
- The company respects user privacy and complies with applicable data protection laws.

The purpose of these guidelines is to protect the integrity of the content provided by credited productions and to ensure that all viewers enjoy the platform responsibly. By using GZTV, you acknowledge that the company serves as a host and moderator, and all featured content remains the property of its credited creators and licensors.
